

Uncle Sam's Tars Like

WASHINGTON, July 8. — Uncle Sam's tars have demonstrated such affection for their bell-bottomed trousers and their familiar blues and whites that the navy may reconsider plans to change uniforms.

Vice Adm. L. E. Donfield, chief of naval personnel, said it would be at least 18 to 24 months before the navy's garb is altered—if at all. Many enlisted men, he told the house appropriations committee, don't like the proposed new stream-lined uniforms and "most officers and men would like to get back to blues and whites, instead of blues, grays, whites and khakis."

Raid Gambling Outfit;

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Vancouver detectives raided a Chinese gambling establishment recently and took a strangely assorted group of prisoners.

Occupations listed by the 20 Chinese arrested included: "An instructor of the bagpipes," "a drum flate player," a "singer," a "dog-catcher," and a "Mr. Books."

Only one of the defendants called himself "a gambler."
